EDITORIAL

I imagine that most of us, at one time or another sit down and think about the past years of our lives, both to analyze our accomplishments and our shortcomings, and also to relive past experiences. It is at times like these that we begin to realize exactly how fast our lives are changing. In four or five short years we find ourselves passing through the corridors of high school, an essential stepping-stone towards our future.

These are indeed important years, and for most of us they are extremely enjoyable ones as well, in which many of our ideas and attitudes are moulded, and many permanent friendships are formed. We would be doing ourselves a great injustice if we allowed these years to slip by unnoticed and unremembered.

It is in this light that the school yearbook is so vitally necessary in the life of the student. It serves as the key which unlocks a vault of memories of a year gone by. And in an age where fortune can rob a man of all his wealth, overnight memories are among the very few possessions which the creditor cannot touch.

It is precisely this aspect of memory which makes a yearbook so very personal; for no two people react the same to it; no two people share exactly the same memories from it.

We of the Phoebus Staff hope that "PHOEBUS 1969" has been successful in achieving this goal. If by looking through the book you are reminded of but one magic moment at a prom, or one hard-fought victory in a sport or even one enjoyable experience in a history class, we will feel that our efforts have served a purpose.

LION'S ROAR

The Lion's Roar is slowly but surely becoming an institution at this school. It is in its third year of publication, has put out over fifteen issues, and judging by sales, it is as popular now as when it first came out. Since I have been on the newspaper staff from its beginning three years ago, I am very anxious that such a worthwhile project continue.

The main purposes of the paper are varied. First, it can inform the students of important events in the future, and give them details of things that have already happened. Secondly, it should provide entertainment. We try to fulfil this requirement by running cartoons, jokes, and anecdotes. Thirdly, a newspaper should be a showplace for the talented student; it should also give recognition to outstanding groups or individuals. This we try to achieve by printing student essays and poems, and carrying all sports and club news. And finally, perhaps the most important and lasting use of a school newspaper: it should give the student an opportunity to gain experience in expressing his ideas acceptably. Our only regret is that a larger number of students do not make use of the paper to communicate their views.

As editors, Frank and I have tried to innovate a few changes. We have teamed up with the Audio-Visual Club, who take all our pictures; the Junior members are running a love-lorn column; and we printed a Special Souvenir for the Boys' Volleyball team when they won S. W. O. S. S. A.

The Lion's Roar has been a success this year because of the help of the people who worked behind the scenes. Frank and I especially want to thank the following people who made our year as editors interesting and profitable: Mr. Unger, who patiently gave advice and assistance; the Office Staff, who helped us to obtain material for articles; Mr. Hart and his Audio-Visual Club; and all the aspiring young journalists who worked so hard.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

We congratulate the editor and his Phoebus Staff in preparing for our enjoyment, an excellent book, continuing the high standards set by the many editions of previous years.

The close of this school year will mark the retirement of Mr. P. J. Gleeson, Vice-Principal of the school for the past twenty-six years. His career in education spans thirty-one years with thirty of those years devoted to the youth of this community. Mr. Gleeson's willingness to give many additional hours to the welfare of the students and his sympathetic understanding and knowledge of people and their problems have played a large part in the success of our school. All of us, students, fellow teachers and parents have a warm feeling towards Mr. Gleeson and it is our sincere wish that he enjoys with his family, many years of happy retirement.

To the graduates, we extend the wish that you will succeed as well as the graduates of past years. We like to think that you have found your years at the Leamington District Secondary School not only profitable but a most enjoyable period of your life.

— J. N. Hume

VICE-PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

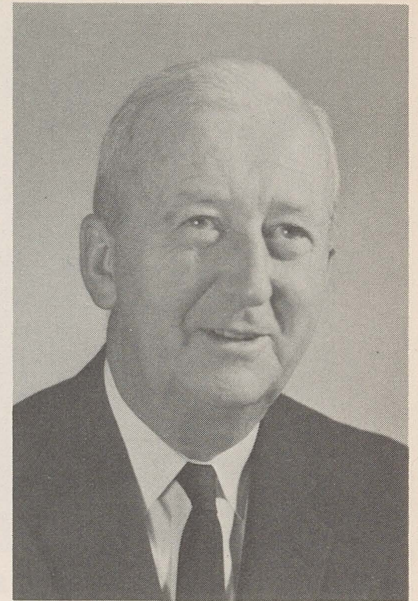

Upon looking back over the years of my teaching career, I find the experience has been rewarding and pleasant as well. The teachers' reward is not in the success of the outstanding students only, but in watching the development of all the students. The failures, we try to forget.

These days we are deluged by reports of student unrest – walkouts, sit-ins, protest marches. This unwarranted publicity given to the small vocal minority of dissidents, shows all young people in an unfavourable light. I find few differences between the students of to-day and those of other years. The effort to succeed is as evident now as it was formerly. The indifference of some, unfortunately, can be seen down the years, and we have always had the nuisances.

May I say "Thank you" to the Leamington District Secondary School Students, past and present, who have helped me in so many ways, particularly for having given me a reason for my being. I hope I have been of some help to you. I know that you have been to me.

Ave atque vale.

— P. J. Gleeson

ASSISTANT VICE-PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The past four or five years have, no doubt, passed by very rapidly for you. As you look back many of you will see times when many opportunities were lost to you because you didn't take the time to take advantage of them.

We are unable to correct the mistakes of the past. It is hoped, however, that we can profit from our errors. Our sights must be set on the future. It is the hope of your parents, teachers and friends that you have prepared well. May the many hours of toil over the past several years fit you for a happy, useful life in the years to come. You are entering an exciting world. As young Canadians you may make your contribution towards building a great nation.

As you prepare to leave the halls of L. D. S. S. may these lines be of some use to you

"May the road rise to meet you.
May the wind always be at your back.
May the sunshine warm your face,
And the rain fall soft on your fields.
And when at last we meet again,
May God hold you in His hand."

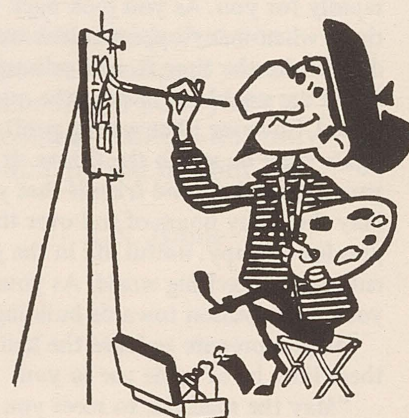

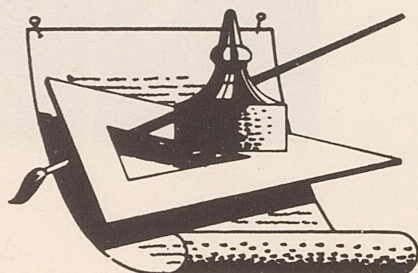

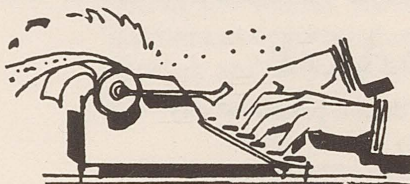

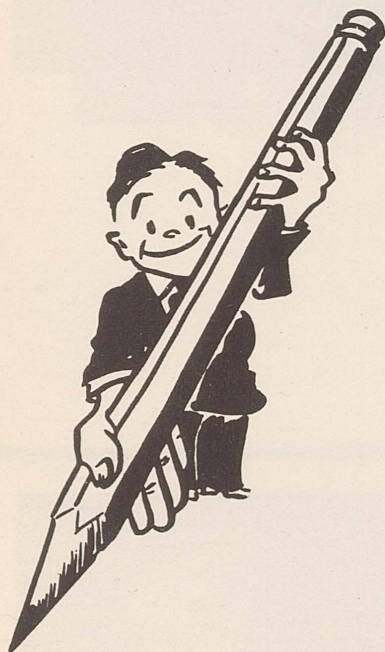

— C. B. Miller

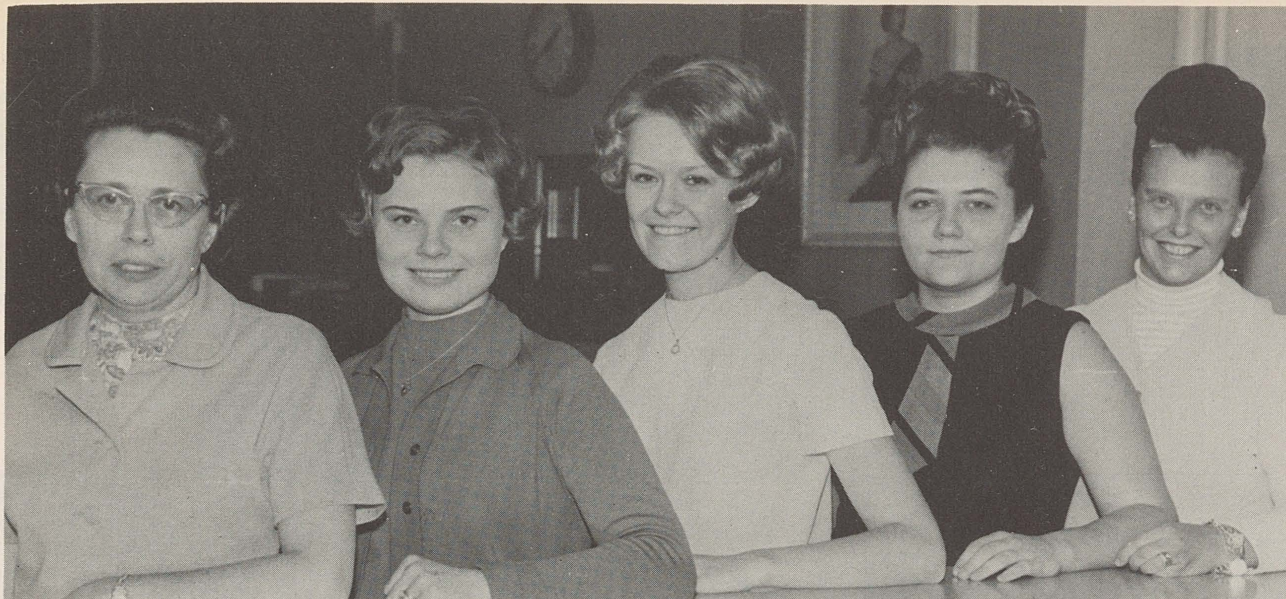

A TRIBUTE

There are always those who work behind the scenes and go unnoticed. Thus was the situation throughout the year as we composed the year book. On behalf of the Phoebus Staff, a special thanks to:

- Mr. Hume who gave permission for this year's book
- Mr. Gleason and Mr. Miller who organized the picture taking
- Mr. Hart and his eager audio-visual group who provided us with many pictures for the book
- Gary Tetzlaff who took extra time to take photographs
- Miss Scott and her Art students who contributed many useful artworks found throughout the book
- Mr. Dueckman and the Technical boys who built the backdrop for the Glee Club
- The commercial teachers and their students who graciously typed all of the articles
- The English teachers and the individual classes themselves who contributed the interesting poems and stories about their class
- Mrs. Peterson and her office staff who helped us prepare the book before it was sent to the printers
- Robert Vodarek who took the aerial view of the school
- Mr. Graydon, our teacher sponsor who was always there when we needed him.

Ayez Pitie de Nous!

C'est une petite histoire au sujet d'une journée scolaire typique dans la vie d'un écolier. Premièrement, on n'arrive à l'école que de trouver que ses devoirs et tous ses cahiers sont, naturellement, à la maison. Voilà le début d'une journée merveilleuse. Bien sûr, tous les professeurs le grondent, et quelques-uns offrent de l'enseigner après la classe, ce qu'on appelle une "détention". D'ailleurs, il y a deux ou trois épreuves le même jour, et il fallait sortir la veille.

Dans les couloirs du second étage, il faut qu'on évite les professeurs féroces du département commercial avec leurs règles terribles. Quand on entend quelqu'un qui s'écrie, "Faites la queue!", on doit obéir tout de suite, si on ne veut pas se tenir debout devant le bureau. Toujours on trouve, devant ce bureau, plusieurs personnes qui évidemment étaient méchantes.

Malgré tout, on vit encore à la fin de la journée, et on est bien (?) prêt à commencer de nouveau le lendemain matin de bonne heure. Etes-vous d'accord que la vie d'un écolier n'est pas facile? Alors, tout le monde, ayez pitié de nous, les pauvres écoliers. S'il vous plaît?

Canemus de Sputnico, comite Aeneae fideli, qui urbe Troia victa, cum suis naves soluit ut patriam novam inveniret.

Coniecti in mari cum venti tempestibus turgerent, hi miseri per Herculis columnas perlati sunt, itaque de fine orbis terrarum navigaverunt. Perterrebantur cum in medio clamore virorum et stridentium rudentium, lux diei ex oculis rapta est. Cadentum per mare stellarum fluctuabant. In omnibus partibus flammæ coloris clarissimi dirumpebant. Navi destita circumagere, se inveniebant in Gigantibus. Pius Sputnicus et sua manus coeperunt laborare statim ut castra ponerent et constituerent praesidium contra oppugnationes gigantium. Proelio facto, insidiis gigantes gradatim vincebant.

Gigantes se recipiebant ad latus non apricum, stellarum errantium et relinquebant Sputnicum et manum ut novam urbem in pace conderent.

Ubi generationes egerunt, hi augebant et prosperabant. Tum uno die in anno 2001, objectum alienum spatii gubernatum ab navarcho Kirko et Spox exposuerunt in stellam. Illi egressi ex nave, erant similes superioribus Sputnici. Sputnicula, proneptis Sputnici, accepit Kirkum et manum. Septem dies et septem noctes gavisus sunt et strepitus tactis fit. Omne vino bibito Spox epistulam imo in cado animadvertit. Ea dixit: "Navarchus Kirkus, redi statim ad orbem", subscripta ab imperatore.

Multis lacrimis, Kirkus et Spox dixerunt, "Valete", sperantes iterum si occursuros esse eis. Ut navis navigavit in solem occasum, Kirkus iuravit se iussurum esse omnes superiores terrae discere Latinam ut possint loqui cum incolis patriae carae Sputniculae.

GRADE 9

9G 1, 2

Here we are in Grade 9
We thought we'd never make it,
We intend to stay all year,
That's if we can take it.
We have a great variation
Of subjects we can choose,
But most of these options
Are paired off in two's.
Amateurs we now are
And when we finish school,
We hope to be good citizens,
Who will follow the Golden Rule.

9E3

Our class is seldom quiet,
Nor always are we good;
We try to keep our notes caught up
And do the things we should.
We behave like perfect students
When Mr. Hume is near;
We're sent down to the office
When books we need aren't here.
Our marks are not the very best,
We know we aren't so great,
But we're improving slow but sure,
And at graduation just you wait!

9E1

Just as a breath of warm air clears a foggy window so you can see outdoors, high school clears the filmy pink veil of childhood from the eyes of young people and reveals the future. Some of it we try to blot out by grabbing at the curtain which coats the whole world with laughter and light. But childhood is behind us. There is nothing to do now but look at the future as an adult would. Naturally, there are many disappointments in this new world we've entered, and sometimes they seem to outnumber the pleasant changes; nevertheless, learning to accept the good with the bad is learning to become a mature adult. This is what we of 9E1 feel that L. D. S. S. is helping us do.

9A1

A great prophet once said that the 9A1 class of 1968-69 would work well and have lots of fun. How true this prediction is! There are many other forms in this school but there is something about our form that stands out from the rest. A distinguishing feature of 9A1 is the different national backgrounds of the students. The English, Irish, German, Rumanian, Italian, Lebanese, Dutch, Russian, Portuguese, French, Scottish and Greek students all give us a flair most rooms do not have. This year is truly an international one for us and we will find it hard to break up at the year's end.

9D 1, 2

These are the technical boys of 9D 1, 2.
Here is our poem presented to you:
We are the gents of L. D. S. S.
We cannot help but say we're the best.
Our class leaders are big Robbie and Walt,
And they do their errands with never a fault,
But then there are some as sharp as a spike;
All of our teachers we especially like.
Although we try hard our subjects to pass,
Our French mark always comes through with a crash!
But our efforts continue — really it's true
From our class of thirty in 9D 1, 2.

TEACHERS' OPINION OF US

- Mr. Szymanski — make up a bunch of lies and sign my name to them.
- Mr. Miller — HA! HA!
- Mr. MacDonell — just great.
- Mr. Derksen — a pretty nice bunch of fellows.
- Mr. Gauthier — a spunky group.
- Mr. Luvisotto — an exceptionally interesting group.
- Mr. Cole — A-1 and a little goes a long, long way.
- Mr. Dueckman — good students, fine citizens.
- Mr. Clark — a good bunch of fellows on the whole.
- Mr. Bradshaw — Horrible, just Horrible.
- Mr. Dickin — just great.
- Mr. Adamache — a group of reasonable young MEN, and then there's always Mike.

APPROACH OF WINTER

The dismal sky was a cold blue-grey
The thin layered clouds sailed high,
The wild geese now were flying south
For winter was drawing nigh.

The trees had shed their coloured leaves,
Ice now covered the bay,
Snowflakes fluttered to the ground;
Winter had come to stay.

— Janice Suds, 10E1

MY DEAR 10A3

(Sung to the tune of "Home on the Range")

- I O give me a form, where scholars are born
And I'll give you the class of A3
Where effort is shown and knowledge is grown
And homework is given out free.
Chorus
Yes, that is the form fit for me,
With grades sometimes low, and brains sometimes slow
And classmarks aren't given out free.
- II Now don't get me wrong, we feel very strong
'Bout the teachers we have every day,
For the homework they give, is for what we all live,
Though we wish they would take it away.
- III In conclusion my friend, you can see there's no end
To the fun that this class is made of,
And our lives here at school would be dull and so cruel
If it wasn't for form 10A3.

SOUL-RAKER

Accomplished feats and corrected wrongs,
These are our joys on a mist-laden throng.
We have to have courage in order to survive
The sorrow, the pain, the need for some drive.
Willpower — a noun in its cause,
A powerful word with but only one flaw,
Sadly enough without it we perish
But to achieve its fulfilment — is a heavenly merit.
To sit back and look at crime and corruption
To see people strive for an ultimate goal,
Knowing that they're on the wrong road to Heaven
Yet neglecting to satisfy their conscience and soul.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The students of L.D.S.S. are exposed to our democratic way of life through the operation of the Student Council. Those elected as class leaders or as House Executive members obtain the experience of parliamentary action as well as a chance to do something for their school.

This school year, it was decided to undertake magazine and chocolate bar sale campaigns again. Also, the former school board gave us some money which had accumulated from New Year's Eve dances that they had sponsored and from work which the technical students had done. Some of the money was used for buying new uniforms for our cheerleaders and our senior girls' basketball team. In addition, plaques were given to each member of the former Board.

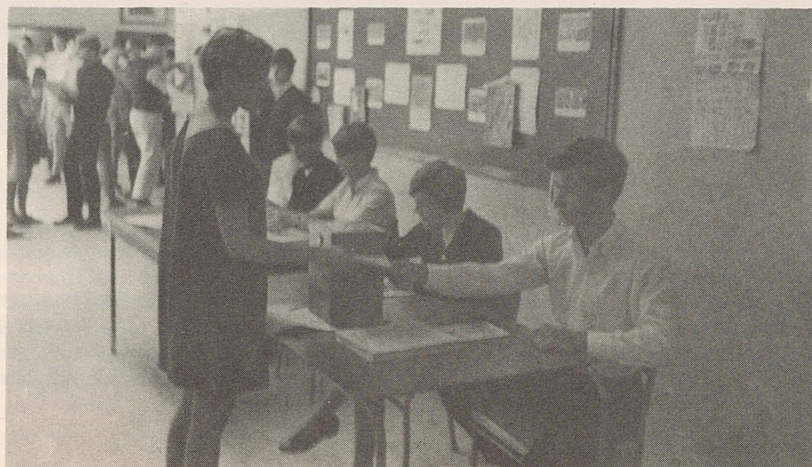

The four House Captains who undertook leadership duties for equal terms during the year were:

Alpha — Susan Harrow
Beta — Brian Woodward
Gamma — Jane Down
Delta — George Koppert

They helped to keep attendance and school spirit high at our social affairs.

Participation in the Student Council will help us to take on the duties and responsibilities of our society.

GRADE 11

11C1

Our grade is full of classy girls,
All dressed in frills and lace
Our hair pulled back in up-swept curls —
We always set the pace.
We share each other's toils and tears,
Our sorrows and temptations,
We help all overcome their fears,
And share our infatuations.
Our classes are filled with giggles and noise
The teachers always tell us,
We talk of clothes, and hair, and boys
Always ever-zealous!

11A4

Can you imagine:

Dave speechless? Doug B. failing math? Ed getting giddy?
Modesto failing art? Dan being depressed? Neil answering in History? Armand wearing baggy pants? Bob without his Mickey Mouse watch? Steve a mastermind? Dick Tisdale passing French?
Claire a cross-eyed Clarence? Doug W. a mad scientist?
Roger's voice cracking? Shirley giving a one-word answer?
Sylvia writing on her pencil case? Cynthia being early?
Ellen talking to a French man? Jody without her white sneakers? Sue not talking in History? Pat without her black gym sneakers? Sandy in a granny gown? Diane with long, straight hair? Miriam being graceful? Mr. Pollard standing still?

11A3

Our class has been an extraordinary group of individuals this year. This is an illustration of a typical day.

"In the morning, we are like so many energumens who are extramundane; therefore, we tend to elide a bit, and become very epexegetic. Between classes, some of our group, who discuss ideas which belong only to esoterics and who are eclectically inclined, form an impressive echelon through the halls; but don't worry — they are not exophagous. Eftsoons, the edentates separate from the elasmobranches, and continue to their own classes. Near the end of the day, we students feel the effeteness coming on — it probably has something to do with our erythrocytes, for we are not ex-sanguine. We sometimes elegize etudes, and sometimes contemplate euthanasia."

In conclusion, this author can only say that although our class has not turned out even one ethnographer, we are still esculents. Look that up in your "Funk and Wagnall's."

Bill Paterson

GRADE 12

T is for tardiness which we seem to do with ease, while
W is for workers who toil hard as bees,
E is for excitement in each and every class, and
L is for laziness that seems to run as a mass.
V is for valid as our every excuse should be, while
E is for endurance which every teacher must need.

A is for aggravation when everything goes wrong

F is for our feelings that swell into a throng.
O is for others who help in all lessons, while
U is for uniting our ideas and expressions, and last but not forgotten is the final letter
R representing our realities as they're faced without a mar.

12A3

In ancient Kathay a refugee Ottontot was sadler-ing his taylor-made rickshaw to irwin the reimerstone studded crown of Nuz-Bol in the Coatsworth Classic. In the competition, Maria was ahead, and in order not to be rude, Wiebe timidly said,
"Frankly, Maria, be careful with your armes or you'll get berned!" Appauled at this, Maria replied, "I'll sue the racetrack and then you'd be in a pickle. If I want to erna red pencil-krahm for my efforts, I klym!" Meanriley, her bradshaw exploded and the next day at donna a wet, vicki mess was seen. Mr. Hume commented,
"Looks like someone grundnered on the track."

Class of 12A4

IS CHIVALRY DEAD?

Lately, have you had a boy throw his coat over a mud puddle in order to help you pass?

Today a girl is lucky if she has the door opened for her. Many times Mr. Chivalry, unconscious of his actions, cuts in front of a girl to be first in line or he lets a door close in her face. Sometimes, however, he will be himself and let her go first to open the door for him.

Does your date open the car door for you, or does he climb in and start the car to have it ready and waiting to go by the time you manage to get around the other side and open it yourself? Very courteous, indeed! Again, there is the exception when Mr. Chivalry will open the door. He walks you as far as his door, quickly climbs inside, manages to lean over the other side and open it before you have the chance.

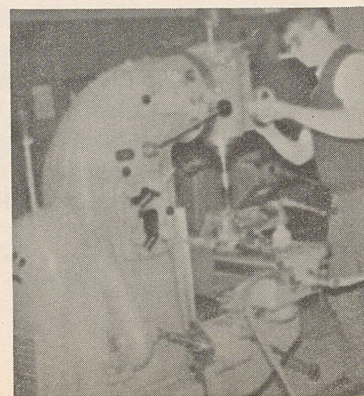

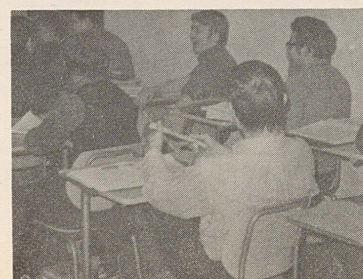

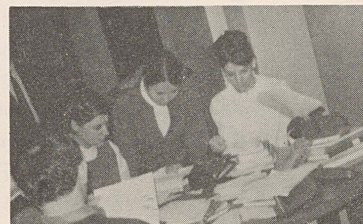

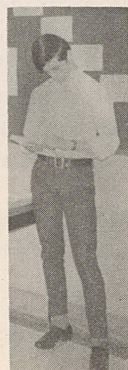

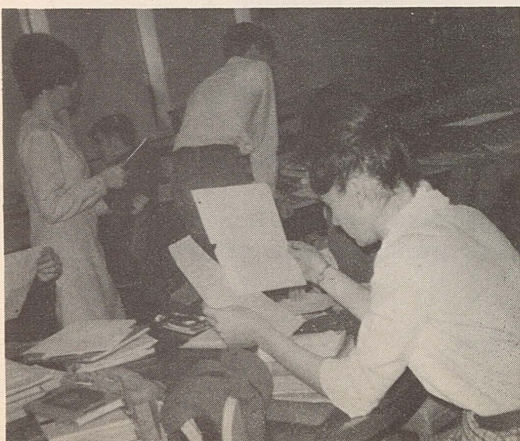

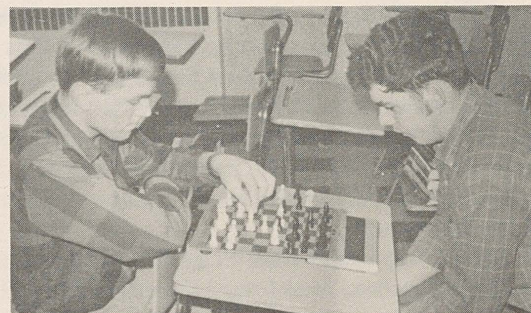

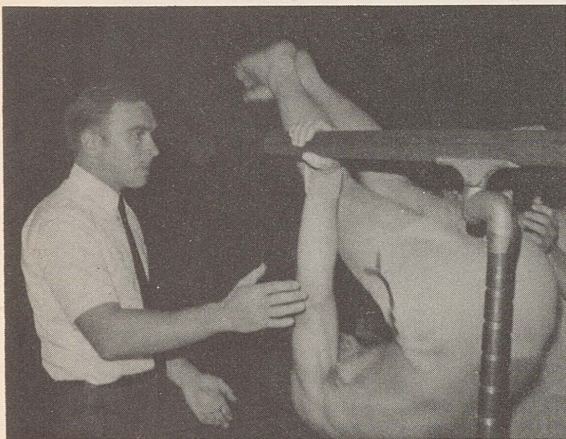

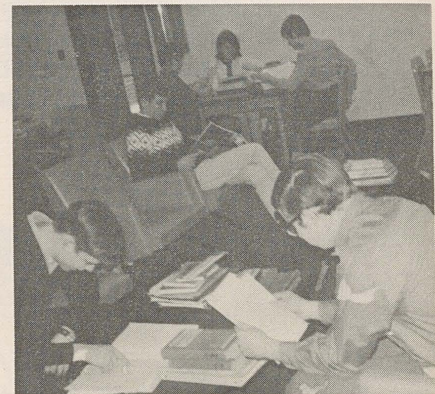

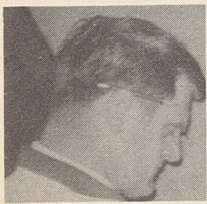

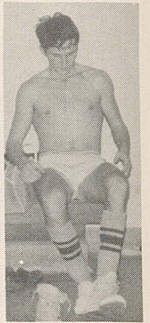

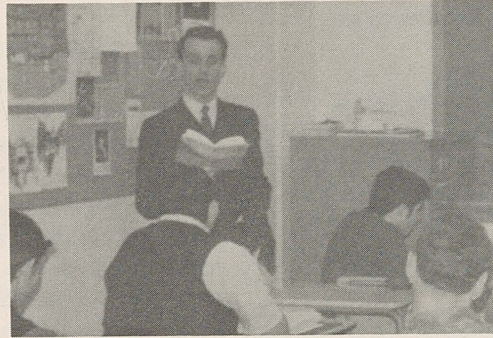

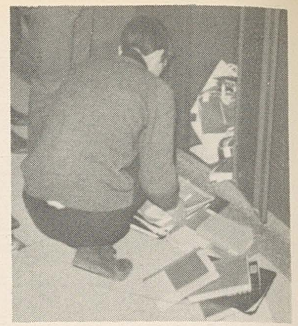

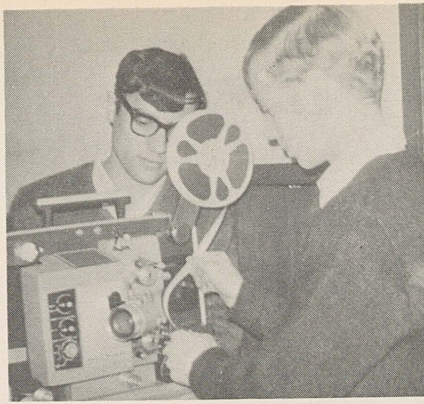

It used to be that men would walk along the right hand side of the sidewalk. With our improved sanitation conditions garbage is no longer thrown into the streets; so the danger to women has been avoided. But alas, there is another reason why the custom should be practised. If a car should happen to jump the curb, who would get bumped? Why it would be the gentleman, not the lady and after all what gentleman would want his lady to be hit leaving himself untouched!

Has a gentleman tipped his hat to you lately or risked his life for his lady fair? The latter is practised constantly, I must say, today. The way boys drive to show how fast their machines will go is mighty risky but then the girl risks her life as much since she has to ride with him.

Mr. Chivalry, however, has not died yet. He still has a faint speck of life in him. When he takes his girl out he does pay her way, he does take her home, and sometimes if he is really gallant and if his girl has looked exceptionally pretty for him, he will reward her by walking her up to the door.

Taking all this into account, although a coat is seldom gallantly flung across a puddle, Mr. Chivalry still lives. Old and feeble though he may be, he may be seen occasionally returning to his youth.

— Michele Irwin, 12A4

Under the direction of Mr. Gilbert, a jogging club was begun this year. Members of the club are required to run at least 100 miles during the school year. The first to reach this goal was George Koppert. Ten minutes later Bill Pike finished a close second. The first female winner was Miriam Grant. This club seems to have gone over quite well. Even some of the teachers try to prove their endurance. Those who reach the tough goal of 100 miles receive a crest

FOOTBALL

The Lion's Football Team had a very discouraging season. The team finished with a record of 0-8 but most of the games were lost by only a touchdown or two. Mr. Zannier, Mr. Pollard and Mr. McAdam whipped the team into shape and kept their spirits up all year even with the losses. Great individual efforts were made by some players and the team work was quite evident. Even though the team was not the best on the playing field, the players seemed to be in very good physical shape.

This year's football team was very inexperienced, but next year they promise a winning season.

BOYS' VOLLEYBALL

For the first time in their history, the Senior Lions' Volleyball team captured both the E.C.S.S.A. and S.W.O.S.S.A. titles. With the aid of the patient coaching of Mr. Osborne (nicknamed Oz by the team), the Lions first swept the E.C.S.S.A. crown. After suffering a defeat in their first game of the season at Essex, they rolled on to chalk up 5 consecutive league victories including a 15 - 0, 15 - 0 shellacking of Belle River in mid-season. In a playoff with Essex to decide the league championship, the Lions roared past the faltering Raiders at Leamington and thus gained a berth in the S.W.O.S.S.A. tourney played 2 weeks later in Essex.

Sandwiched between the 2 championship contests was one of the highlights of the season for the Lions. At Guelph, in the all-Ontario tournament, the Lions eliminated 4 top-flight teams from the competition before falling prey themselves to Barton. When they resumed action next in the S.W.O.S.S.A. Tournament, the Lions were at their peak form of the season. In the round-robin portion of the competition, they spiked, tipped, and dove their way to a 6 - 0 record including 2 victories over a vaunted Wallaceburg team which finished third in all-Ontario. In the final round, the Lions lost the first game but bounced back with their patented rally in the next 2 games and were declared S.W.O.S.S.A. champions. However, one task still remained unfinished. In their supreme challenge, the Lions managed to squeak by the Teacher Tigers to defeat that squad of volleyballers for the first time ever.

In conclusion, special mention should be given Mozz (Frank Massong) and Faker (Allen Denys) for their leadership of the team. And to Oz, our magical marvel, the whole team dedicates its last "ROAR" of the year.

Once again, the hearty and determined of the school have applied themselves to challenging the sport of long distance running. The ranks of the seniors as well as those of the juniors were rather small, but the midgets turned out in encouraging numbers.

The runners, most of them members of the Hundred Mile Club, could be seen from sunrise to sunset doing their laps.

The E.C.S.S.A. meet at Point Pelee saw our runners do rather well. The girls' team, composed of Linda Riley, Miriam Grant, Linda Dobranski, Carol Knight and Cathy Whittle came in first. In the midget class our runners came in with a close second, Doug Hillman being the individual champion. The juniors were fourth with George Koppert first, and the seniors ended up in third place.

The S.W.O.S.S.A. meet, held at Rondeau Park saw keener competition and the results were less impressive. The midgets were sixth, with both juniors and seniors forfeiting due to a shortage of runners in these classes. All the runners are grateful to Mr. Gilbert and Mr. Carey who did a great job in training them.

TENNIS TEAM

Although this year's tennis team did not capture any championships, they played well and provided good competition for their opponents. After playing a qualification match the team members were selected. The captain of the team was Nancy Hibbard, and other members were Mary Anders, Jane Pritchard, Betty Knowlton, Ed Mayer, George Koppert, Rick Reid and Jerry Van Nie.

All the matches that the team played were lost, and in the S.W.O.S.S.A. tournament at Windsor they were also defeated. The team played well and we hope that perhaps next year the L.D.S.S. Tennis Team will have some victories.

This year the curling spirit is very noticeable. Many beginners have come out to master the art and to have fun. As in previous years, we gather at the Sun Parlour Curling Club Thursday nights after school and we are provided with coaches such as Mr. Miller, Mr. Lyons and Mr. Unger.

The beginning of the year wasn't very successful in the competitive field. At Christmas, a rink consisting of Jim Stewart, Jamie Meuser, Bill Shaw and Peter Connell travelled to Sarnia for the School Boy Competition. They were narrowly defeated with 2 wins, 1 loss. The last coming event for us is S.W.O.S.S.A. and the teams are being prepared. I am sure with the support of our coaches and team spirit, we shall be able to win one curling crest for our school this year.

The members would like to thank our teacher sponsors and hope students in future years will enjoy curling as much as we did this year.

GOLF TEAM

LEFT TO RIGHT: Dave Cree, Tim Parker, Dick Renwick, Kevin Dunmore, Dennis McCarty, Mr. Myers

This year at L.D.S.S, as in former years, Mr. Myers coached our golf team. The team competed in the E.C.S.S.A. Tournament but was up against strong competition and had to satisfy for a third place finish. The loss however did not discourage the players and I'm sure we can count on them to try hard again next year, this time for first place.

I am sure our golf team appreciates the coaching Mr. Myers gave them.

SOCCER

In previous years, the soccer team had had little success in winning their games. Last year crowned the Lion's misfortunes with a series of chain losses. This year however was a real break. With two wins and three ties, the Lions ended up in third place. The boys trained very hard and with some luck, they look forward to an even better year. Thanks go to Mr. Purr, who gave up long hours for the benefit of the team.

SENIOR BOYS' BASKETBALL

This year the story of the Senior Boys' Basketball team was one of rags to riches. With the entire starting team from last year graduating, the lineup had to be rebuilt from scratch by Mr. McAdam. He did a masterful job, creating a fast, hard-working and exciting team. After losing their first and third games of the season to North Essex, the Lions settled down to a steady season and recorded a 6-3 slate in league competition. A loss to Amherstburg in Amherst was the only other mar on their record and they chalked up 3 victories in their matches with Essex. This entitled them to a playoff berth opposite North Essex which matched the two first place teams in a two-game total point series for the E.C.S.S.A. championship. The Lions took a 4 point lead in the first game at home and then captured the E.C.S.S.A. crown at Belle River with a clutch performance in the late stages of the game. At the time of printing, the Lions' final accomplishments were still uncertain but they were awaiting a match with a Chatham school to decide the SWOSSA championship. Whatever the outcome, the Lions had a great year and deserve our appreciation for a spirited effort.

This year's Senior Girls' Basketball team was a real team. Our desire to win and our ability to play with each other compensated for a lack of individual skill. Each person in this picture was an active and necessary part of our team.

As a team we tried to bring "honour and glory, and everlasting fame" to L.D.S.S. Miss Borschke did her best to make us a good team and we hope we fulfilled her wishes.

The team would like to thank Miss Borschke, our coach; Miss Campbell, our timer; Donna Ciliska, our manager; and Helen Simpson, our scorer. The team members who have played their last game for L.D.S.S. would like to acknowledge that they were proud to play under Miss Borschke for Leamington.

"Victory! Victory! Let's repeat it" is one of our cheerleaders' most famous yells. It is very fitting in the case of the junior boys, one of the best junior basketball teams of all times, as they rolled on to the E.C.S.S.A. championship, WINNING 9, losing 0.

The Lions had very little trouble from their opponents in the league; Amherstburg, North Essex and Essex. The only close game the Lions had was a 41 – 39 victory over a stubborn Essex team, late in the season. The boys encountered no real threat in their title bid.

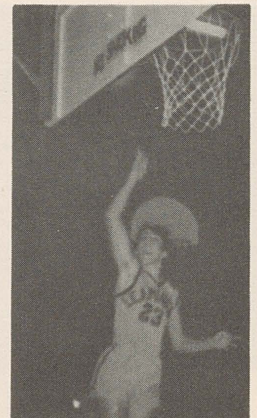

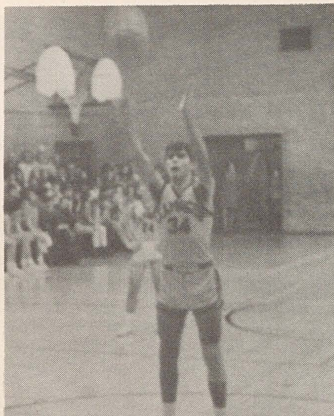

The Lions, playing exhibition games against teams from Kingsville, St. Anne's and Chatham-McGregor, extended their winning streak to 13 wins, 0 losses.

Frank Ehrenreich, Alan Bachmeier and Bill Paterson were usually the top point getters. Contributing, by no less means were Reinold Kosciuw, Mark Harris and Doug Bakes.

Special mention must go to Mr. Luvisotto and Mr. Pollard who did a fine job in shaping their boys into such a well-knit team.

Once again congratulations to the 1968 – 69 Junior Boys' Basketball Team, E.C.S.S.A. Champs, on a wonderful, PERFECT, season.

The Junior Lionettes, although not successful, fought very hard all season and ended up with a total of 5 wins and 5 losses.

Under the leadership of their captain, Elsie Jakob, they started their season play on a winning note by defeating Kingsville 28 to 12. Their next two games were also won with scores of 28 to 13 against Belle River and 29 to 20 against Essex.

Elsie Jakob was the top scorer with 44, followed by Debbie Sadler, 40 and Miriam Grant, 39. Marion Wilkinson and Carol Hunter both followed close behind.

All the members of the team wish to express their thanks to Miss Beach, their coach, and Rosemary Verbeke, their manager.

SPORTS EDITORIAL

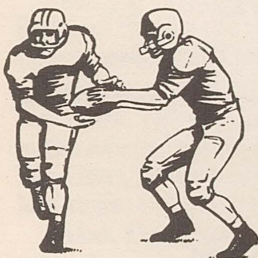

The 1968 – 69 sporting season was one of great success for some teams, and yet, record wise, a year of disappointment for others. School teams in boys' volleyball, soccer, and basketball all had or were on the way to victorious seasons.

In volleyball, it was a year of extremes. Neither of the girls' teams, senior nor junior, was able to win a single match during the entire season. However, the boys, sparked by tremendous desire and team spirit, went all the way to win SWOSSA "AA" and finished fifth in the all-Ontario tourney at Guelph.

The football team fared no better than the girls' volleyball teams, enduring a winless season. The golf team failed to win any tournaments, as did the tennis team, an inter-school team at LDSS for the first time. The cross-country team, bolstered by the 100-Mile Club, fared well, garnering championships in both girls' and boys' divisions. The soccer team provided a pleasant surprise, fighting to within one-half game of a 500 season after enduring two winless seasons.

In basketball, Leamington had an immensely successful season. The Junior Girls, with a victory in their last game, would have had to play off for the ECSSA championship. However, fate stopped them short. The Senior Girls, on the other hand, used a one-point victory in their final regular season game to force a play-off with General Amherst. The Junior Boys, under the guidance and basketball brains of Mr. Luvisotto and Mr. Pollard, breezed through the ECSSA season with a perfect record. The Senior Boys, backed by the tremendous confidence of Mr. McAdam, scored a last game to come from behind victory to force a playoff with Belle River for the ECSSA laurels. The spirit on the teams and the fan support before the playoffs were tremendous, and all the teams were expected to do well in further competition.

The 1968-69 athletic year at LDSS may be summed up as successful, not only because of the championships captured, but because of the tremendous spirit that all the teams had. Sportsmanship and a strong desire to win run through all the Leamington teams. Not one squad was carried by a single man, but rather a team effort was exhibited by every athlete. Team spirit, the main ingredient in any athletic program, was the outstanding mark of the teams from LDSS.

LAUGH...

"Of course there are certain disadvantages to living on a steep hillside."

THE LEGEND OF THE LIONS

There is a story 'bout a man named Oz,
He wasn't a wizard, but thought he was,
He said "To Volleyball, fame beckons me,
I'll follow my star for I have to see
What Lions can do when tamed properly."
He wanted to think, and sat down 'neath a tree,
An apple then struck him and caused him to pause
And he knew what he needed was Faker and Mozz.
He said to the Faker "If you'll be my tipper
Of sweet champagne, we'll both be the sipper."
And then he asked Mozz for a powerful spike
And Mozz said to him "Whatever you like."
Then Oz gathered 'round him the rest of the team,
And explained that if only they'd all brush with Gleem
No team would stop them, whatever the odds
And even a Streetsville, they'd make look like clods.
They practised and practised and dove on the floor
Till their hands and their legs could suffer no more,
Like a pummeling spike the idea then struck
"To Guelph we'll embark and try out our luck."
They rose, and set off, and later woke up,
With oranges, their fuel they sought to stoke up,
Of Nelson and Peterborough they disposed in a whistle,
But facing Guelph, they encountered a thistle,
To the Gaels they succumbed, yet spirits soared high,
For Banting they beat, and the quarters were nigh.
Their next foe was Barton whom they did not fear,
But, alas, the Lions' demise was full near,
The cruel details I will spare you, my friend,
But noble and valiant, they remained to the end.
Undaunted, back home, they sought to repeat
As victors of Ecssa with Essex to beat,
They sharpened their claws to prepare for the fight,
But their very appearance gave Essex a fright,
And the Raiders became the raided forsooth,
For Faker and Mozz had spotted a tooth,
And on then to Swossa the team did proceed,
While on a gold trophy, they drew a dead bead,
The Walkerville Tartans were tough foes indeed,
But the Lions won twice with a slim two point lead,
Of Tartans from Wallaceburg the Lions had heard
That they would be rough; at Guelph, they were third,
Surprised and ecstatic the Lions were then,
When the Tartans went down, more like mice than like men,
The hapless Green Griffins loomed next in their path,
But the counting for Herman involved little math.
So last came the finals, the tension was thick,
But Wallaceburg's candle had burnt its own wick,
The outcome was simple, the Lions would lick 'em
Cause Oz told his charges "Get out there and sic 'em!"
They did it, they won, and Swossa was theirs,
And all Oz could say was "They answered my prayers."

THOUGHTS

I walked along a familiar path,
That winded to the woods,
To a very restful place,
Where I came in different moods.

I often thought of happy things
Like friends, and songs, and favourite
Books I'd read a thousand times,
But of one I liked — and savoured it.

But then again I came with problems;
Too deep to solve at home —
I'd stay here at my thinking place
Where it's best to be alone.

One begins to wonder at
The things in growing old;
Are there good, or are they bad?
They are both, I'm told.

Often things remind me of
The days when I was young,
About the age when all is fun
And nothing 'er goes wrong.

This place of mine is much cherished,
Because it lets me think
Of things that often trouble one
Of things when in the pink.

— Nancy Turner, 10A2

Grinning masks of false emotions,
 Nightmare realities,
 Swoop nearer, ever closer but so far away . . .
 The shrinking air is clouded with black minds.
 Living phantoms of heroic colours
 Dare the twilight,
 Twine and writhe around grey pillars of enlarged hate;
 Snakelike, they hiss with double-edged hearts,
 Descend into the evil abyss
 And are gone — never to return again.
 In their place
 Come flaming owls,
 Silent screeches deafening the corpses below . . .
 Minds weep softly now;
 Scents taste bitter now;
 Lights stop glimmering;
 The fog departs,
 And then — you awake!
 And horrid memories become realities.
 Grinning masks of false emotions,
 Nightmare realities,
 Swoop nearer, ever closer but so far away
 Until one magic hand denies its faith
 And touches you, its silent screaming victim.

Mary Gottler, 13A4

He stood so tall,
 So proud, so erect,
 As if he owned all,
 His muscles tense,
 He looked like a statue
 Then suddenly he moved
 And ran for the wild
 His home, the home of the free.
 — Gayle Hyatt, 10E1

I wandered alone beside the lake,
 Watching the sea gulls play;
 Diving and swooping and rising again,
 Free as the wind that blows the leaves.
 Not a care or a worry have they,
 Leading a free life every minute of every day.
 Having no home or place to stay
 Free as the wind that blows the leaves.
 Flying into the horizon with no destination;
 But where only the wind carries them.
 The life of the sea gull is one of ease,
 Free as the wind that blows the leaves.
 But man's life is filled with care and woe,
 He's not free to wander all the day,
 He's just a person upon a board
 Advancing and dying by some knight's spear.
 — Harold Watson, 10A2

A LOST NATURE

I laughed
 To see you fling a smile,
 And brighten the sky with your sun.
 To see your beauty glow,
 The blue, the green-all blending as one.
 To hear you murmur, whisper,
 And break the silence with your din.
 To hear your sounds of life,
 The singing mockingbird, the wispy wind.
 And as the earth progressed,
 And I grew, and I, too progressed,
 You became only a dim vista —
 Were gone! All your colour and sound replaced.
 And I cried.

— Pat Platsko, 13A4

RAIN

A hazy purple mist above
 A long infinite horizon
 Foreshadowed the shape of something to come;
 A haunting new moon had arisen.
 The grouping of tall, sandy cliffs nearby
 Echoed a cry of sadness,
 And the collection of clouds,
 A mass in the sky, slowly covered the lightness.
 A downpour of fine, clear rain
 Covered the ground like a blanket,
 The entire countryside became
 A nourished and dampened terrain.

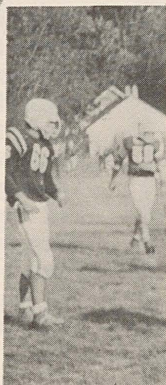

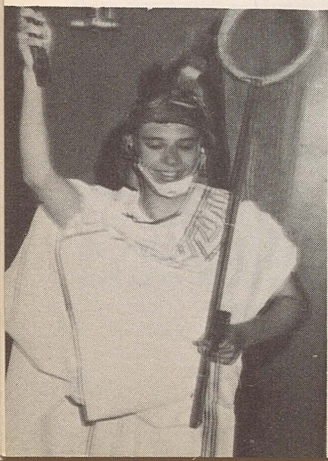

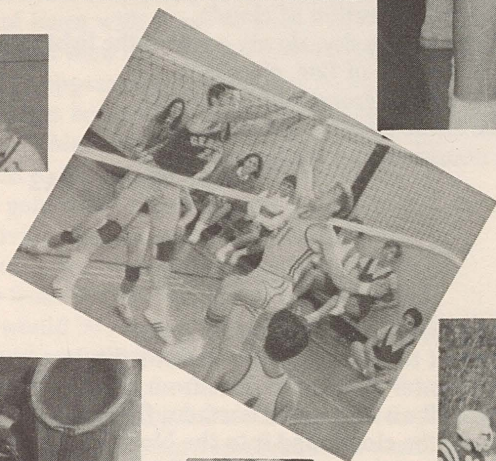

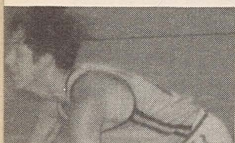

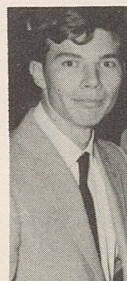

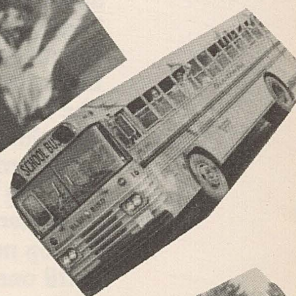

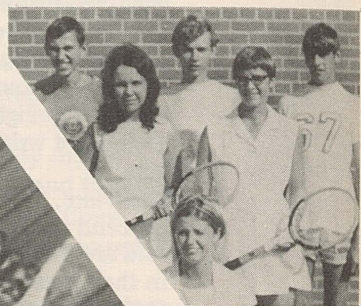

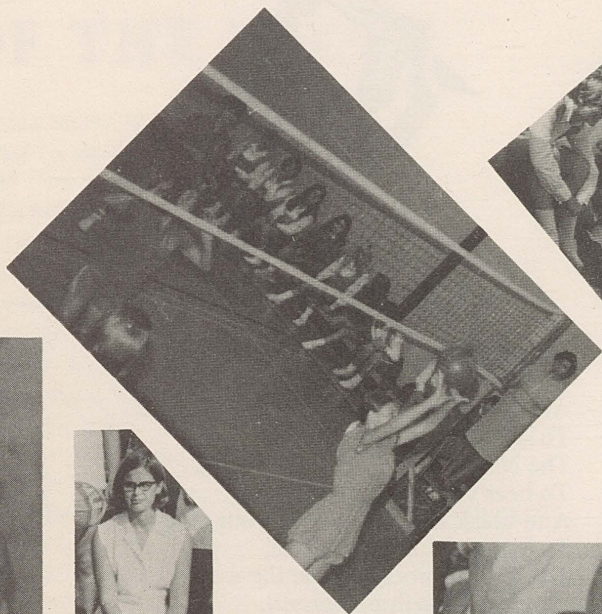

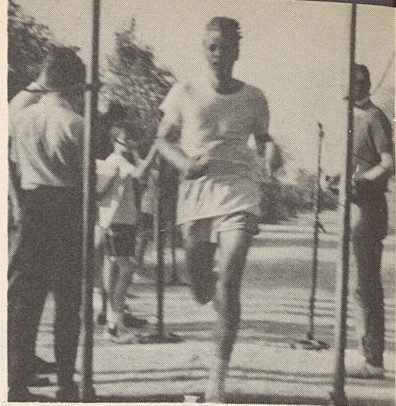

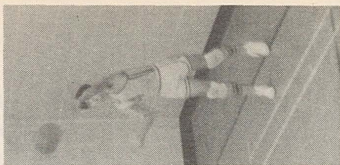

— Lori Brown 10A2

JOURNEY BY JET

I left the ground in a mighty rush
 Straight to the sky by the engine's thrust.
 In a matter of minutes gone from sight —
 I flew like a bird on its northern flight.
 Above the clouds and into the blue —
 Straight as an arrow my jet and I flew,
 Leaving my family and friends behind.
 Sad thoughts, for a moment, clouded my mind.
 Then as the end of the flight drew near
 I saw welcoming faces, smiling and dear.
 The long miles gone in a moment's time —
 I felt warm glances, loving and kind.

SOCIAL EVENTS

JUNIOR PROM

On Friday evening, November 1, the students danced in the gym which was transformed into an Oriental Garden. This was "Hana No To". It was also the Grade Nines first High School dance, and it was a special event to them. At eight thirty, the students of grades nine and grade ten arrived and commenced the evening with the traditional "Grand March". The seniors began to arrive about nine o'clock and all danced to the excellent music of "The New Sound Company". One could purchase refreshments in the cafeteria and take a minute to catch his breath during the fast moving evening. All who attended agreed the Junior Prom was extremely successful. For the Grade Nines, it was an unforgettable introduction to their High School social life.

SADIE HAWKINS DANCE

On January 24, at 8 P.M., our Sadie Hawkin's dance swung into the night to the music produced by the "Doomsday Machine". A vocal and instrumental group, they proved to be a lively and inspirational band. Attendance swelled until the gym moved methodically to the vibrating music. The dance proved to be a successful venture and all are looking forward to more dances this year and in the years to follow.

ART TRIP

The art of the French holds a unique expression. The difference is not found only in brush stroke, colour, or subject, but in a mood that can be attributed to only the French. To glean the entire feeling, the senior Art classes travelled by bus to the Detroit Institute of Art. Led by an exasperated, but in her own little way, efficient Miss Scott, Leamington students were guided through the gallery of French Art. The pictures varied from the ultra-realistic to the abstract. Pieces by Modigliani, Utrillo and Picasso were greeted with mixed reaction. The famous Picassos were the objects of unsure opinion. Everyone felt that he should consider them because of the artist's name. Many students had a negative re-action, and some felt that they should like the Picassos, but that they just couldn't, in all honesty, muster a decided approval.

The Institute of Art was found to hold more rooms full of treasures than time afforded examination. What the group did see was enthusiastically praised, and it was with reluctance that the bus was boarded.

On to Cranbrooke, the beautiful old English-styled church. The entire front wall was covered with a fascinating fresco. The woodwork was dark and intricately carved. Below the sanctuary, there were two more chapels – the cold, stone-pillared, textile-floored places held a secretness that enveloped the present in the past. Outside the church the landscaping about Cranbrook was lovely. A pond afforded both beautiful reflections and ducks and geese to feed and chase.

The next stop was the Science Building where everyone played with experimental apparatus especially provided for that purpose. Instructions on each experiment made everything easy to do and the results were fascinating. A lecturer in the atomarium spoke of atomic structures, and proceeded to illustrate her points with various intriguing visual aids. The day was a well rounded one. Almost every type of interest could have been satisfied. Miss Scott had done the art students a real favour in advocating and supervising the trip.

TEACHERS VS STUDENTS VOLLEYBALL GAME

On a Friday, in November, our annual Teachers vs. Students Volleyball Game was held, and many students came out to support their team or their favourite teachers. The game got off to a smashing start with the Senior Girls' Volleyball team against the powerful teachers. In the last quarter of the game the Senior girls were aided by the Senior Boys champions. The outstanding cheerleaders, Miss Scott and Miss Montgomery, who wore Roman styled cheerleader uniforms and the gladiator referee, Ken Heaton added to the excitement of the evening and led the teachers to victory. Later, the students enjoyed themselves at the sock hop.

STRATFORD TRIP

On Friday, October 11, at 9 A.M. some of the grade twelves along with three teacher chaperons boarded buses. Their destination: Stratford and their goal: to see a Shakespearian play. This was the annual presentation given for the enjoyment of many Ontario High School students. This year's play was "A Midsummer's Night's Dream". As most of us had taken this one during our first year at High School and were therefore, acquainted with the plot, we enjoyed the play even more.

Prior to the play, many students wandered towards the town of Stratford itself but a few of us preferred to wander about the grounds or sat by the river and watched the swans and geese.

It is one thing to read a play but another to see it. And I think all who attended the theatre will agree they enjoyed the latter better!

MACBETH TRIP

"Beware Macbeth" chanted the three weird sisters. Recognize the play? It is Shakespeare's tragedy, "Macbeth". The grade Twelves, this year, were fortunate in getting to see two plays. The second one was held at the University of Windsor Auditorium on a Sunday evening in November. This play is on the grade twelve course this year and seeing it certainly helped us in understanding many controversial points.

The actors were from a Theatrical Group, although some of them were university students themselves. The costumes were beautiful and the fog shrouded appearance of the witches was most effective. Seeing these plays this year made the course just a little bit more interesting and enjoyable.

GRADUATION

On November 16, 1968 commencement exercises were held for the '67 - '68 graduates. As every year, former students proudly received diplomas, scholarships, bursaries, and various awards. The program included an invocation by the Reverend Mr. J. P. Penner of the United Mennonite Church. The speakers were the Chairman, Mr. J. N. Hume, Principal and Acting Chairman, Leamington Kingsville High School Board representative, Mr. B. Cowan, and the valedictorian, Miss Martha Anders who is now attending the University of Toronto. Musical entertainment was provided by the Glee Club, directed by Mr. H. S. Cobbledick. The group sang six songs and closed the program with the national anthem.

Among the Ontario scholarship winners were: Maria Ingratta, Martha Anders, Peter Beyer, Judith Kenna, Mary Lou Middleton, Margaret Ricci, and Howard Watson.

ANNUAL ATHLETIC NIGHT

On March 28, the bleachers in the gymnasium of LDSS were full shortly after six forty-five. The great attraction was our annual athletic night.

The first event on this agenda that had been carefully organized by the athletic directors was the girls' and boys' house basketball games. This year a change in the arrangement of these games proved to be successful. Whereas in previous years each house of each grade played a very short game, this year there was a combined effort of several players from each house of Grade 9's, 10's, and Seniors in one game. The next event was a demonstration of the great skill that has been acquired by some of our students in the fields of wrestling and weight lifting.

Although not students of our school, the members of the next act displayed great talent in their presentation of gymnastic skills. The whole performance was quite commendable.

This was followed by the highlight of the evening - the teacher-student basketball game. The game was interesting and quite humorous and I'm sure all those who participated had as much fun as the spectators did. The evening was concluded with an event in which everyone participated - a very successful sock hop.
